

Do you know one or two people who should be receiving these articles? Let them know, and encourage them to subscribe: <http://yourbusinessevolved.com/eZines.html>

Issue 29, August 28, 2008

Evolved Life & Business Success

Welcome to Margaret Moczowski's Evolved Business Success, an ezine designed to guide evolving individuals in creating successful lives and businesses doing what they have a calling for. My intention is to support you in achieving your highest goals - both in your business and in your life. I believe that a true success has three ingredients: Your soulful connection to (your calling), a grounded, realistic and effective process, and a focused, inspired and purposeful action. This ezine addresses all three. Relax, have fun, connect, engage, and prosper.

I hope you will write to me with questions you may have so they may serve as a platform for upcoming issues. Please write to: mm@YourBusinessEvolved.com

In This Issue:

Soul Connection: Clear Vision Will Pull You To Success

Mind Connection: The Inner Game of Success

Nudge to Action: Vision, Decion, Belief

Soul Connection: Clear Vision Will Pull You To Success

Do you want to experience something really powerful? If you want to enjoy your business building journey even more by gathering all good energies around you to help you, here is a suggestion:

Create a vision of what you really want in your business and your life. Give it a physical form, for example make a vision board where you place picture representations of what you want to attract or write a narrative describing your business and your lifestyle when you are extremely successful. Make it a fun for you project. You will start seeing amazing things happening. Not only will your vision start unfolding in your reality, you will feel much more motivated to take action (and the right kind of action on top of that) to make it all happen.

When we state out loud what we would LOVE to have in our lives, a great shift happens, both in us and in the Universe (same thing, really). We dare to think big about ourselves and about our role on Earth; we open the door to a possibility of having it the way we want, and we invite the Universe to help us get there.

I always think of my life vision as something to PULL me to my dreams and desires. When I have it in front of me, guiding and keeping me on track, life and business become less complicated and much more fun. It seems I don't have to work as hard to "push" myself towards my goals; rather I let my vision energize me and supply me with courage, confidence and trust to move forward. And the best thing is that it gives me a great sense of direction in life.

So I invite you to give yourself some time and space to do it. Grant yourself permission to think big, think positive, be honest about what you want and need. Make it truly meaningful to you. Post your vision where you can see it every day and let it remind you where you are destined to go.

Margaret Moczowski
Personal Business Coach
Momentum Coaching
www.YourBusinessEvolved.com

Mind Connection: The Inner Game of Success

In a way business (and life for that matter) is a game, or rather, games, two games. Our outer game is what we do; our inner game is what we think. What decides whether a person will succeed or struggle in their business is both. The outer game is their strategy, product, sales process, level of market knowledge, marketing, alignment with the economic climate, how they spend their time and energy, how organized they are, etc. The inner game is their success mindset: their belief and trust in their own ability to play a winning outer game.

The inner game comes always first. The inner game dictates the outer game. What you do, how you spend your time, how effective you all depend on the quality of your mindset. The success mindset is a firm belief in your own capabilities to create your version of success as well as your feeling of worthiness to receive it. You must have the trust and the belief on the inside to succeed on the outside.

That's why it's crucial to put time and energy into cultivating your inner state of mind. In the Soul Connection section of this eZine I talked about the importance of creating and connecting with your life and business vision. Out of that vision I invite you now to take the next powerful step: create your Decision Statement and your Belief Statement. Your Decision Statement is a short and powerful sentence or two of what your intention is for your business and for yourself. It's not a goal or a mission statement, but rather a statement of what you are intending to create. For example:

"My decision is to be a highly successful (fill in the blank) with an amazingly profitable business." or
"My intention is to become a world-famous (fill in the blank) and help thousands of people to (fill in the blank)."

Make it highly personal, authentic, write it in the way that really talks to you and empowers you. It needs to touch your very essence in such way that you will get really excited about it and ready to go for it.

The second part of the process is to support your Decision with your Belief. Belief Statement is a concise declaration of the reason or reasons why you will succeed and make your Decision a reality. Again, it is very personal and has to address your own individual needs. For example:

"I am perfectly designed to be a highly successful (...) and have an amazingly profitable business" or
"I am absolutely capable of becoming a world-famous (...) and help thousands of people to (...)."

Do you see how your Belief Statement works to make your Decision Statement more complete and stronger?

Once you create your statements, write them down somewhere where you can see them every day and connect with them daily. A powerful thing to do is to also record them into a voice recorder and listen to them twice a day: just before you fall asleep and in the morning before you start your work. You will soon see how they fuel you and how they give you a much more open and spacious perspective when dealing with the outside "situations" and challenges. Things will become easier to handle, obstacles simpler to overcome and opportunities more noticeable. You will be much more on target and purposeful in your actions and the journey will become more exciting.

Action Nudge: Vision, Decision, Belief

Your action nudge is to set aside some time for yourself in the next few days to actually go for it and design your vision board, think about and write your Decision and Belief. I invite you to pour as much energy and good intention into these activities as you do for your other business projects and undertakings. Make these exercises fun and pleasant. Allow yourself enough time to give them your full attention. It's really important to keep your inner fire going strong so it can fuel you to success.

Be well, my friend.

Margaret Moczowski

CONFIDENT SUCCESS Group Business Coaching Program Update

[[firstname]],

There is still space left in the Confident Success Group Coaching Program for Solopreneurs. The program starts this September!

Take your business to the success level. This program is a great opportunity. It will hold your hand through 11 proven steps of successful business development from inspired mindset shifts to grounded marketing strategies.

The program last six months. If you become a program member, you will participate in 3 live calls with a business coach, each call 75-minute long. The calls are on Tuesdays at 5 PM Central time and are recorded for all participants to listen to if they can't attend.

During the program you will create immediate results by learning how to:

- Take your business to the next level by shifting your mindset to confidence, belief and trust,
- Get inspired and ready for action by setting real business goals,
- Be able to market yourself without reservations by developing a heart-level connection to your business, product and/or service,
- Find qualified and interested prospects by defining clearly who you are looking for,
- Attract many more clients by articulating your business purpose and mission properly,
- Help your clients buy from you easily by designing a great sales process,
- Market with love, enthusiasm, and purpose,

- Craft your marketing messages so they are client-centered and very attractive,
- Be highly effective in marketing by selecting appropriate marketing strategies for your business and for you as the owner,
- Be productive by staying focused and engaged in purposeful action,
- Invite prosperity to your life by shifting your money beliefs.

This is a tremendously valuable and affordable business development program. If you are truly ready to make more money doing what you love, don't miss this opportunity.

To learn more about this program and sign up, click on this link:

Confident Success Program.

If you have any questions, please contact me and I will be happy to answer them.

Be well,
Margaret

About Margaret:

Margaret Moczowski is a certified business coach for entrepreneurs who want to make a difference in the world and are confused or overwhelmed about a business building process right for them. As a holistic coach she blends proven business building and marketing processes with soulful inspiration to create true success. Margaret's website is <http://www.yourbusinessevolved.com/>. She can be reached in Chicago at 630-963-7044